

PRESS RELEASE / Mobile Payment

Wirecard is the technical service provider supporting the launch of Telekom's MyWallet Card

Aschheim (Munich). Today sees the launch of Deutsche Telekom AG's MyWallet scheme, including the MyWallet card, for which Wirecard AG is the technical service provider. The mobile MasterCard payment card is an essential component of Telekom's MyWallet. Wirecard has implemented the payment card's technical processes within the framework of this collaboration with the card issuer, Telekom subsidiary ClickandBuy.

Christian von Hammel-Bonten, Executive Vice President Telecommunications at Wirecard comments: "In the last year, we have expedited the development and introduction of many innovative products and solutions in the field of mobile payment. Our platform is designed to be appropriately flexible, so that we can provide our customers like Telekom with additional services at all times. It is possible to process all payments securely over mobile end devices. We simultaneously enhance this with attractive value-added services."
